

Abstract

By examining the fragmentation in international law and in institutions as the causes of treaty conflict, the study identifies the goal and regulation conflict between the World Trade Organization (WTO) Agreements and the Framework Convention on Tobacco Control (FCTC) based on the theory of treaty conflict. Accordingly, to coordinate the above conflict, the study puts forward legal resolutions in terms of the genuine conflict through the WTO DSU, and non-legal resolutions in terms of the apparent conflict through the Vienna Convention on the Law of Treaties.
